about Roy & Fred

Roy is from Holland. He is the owner of his own dance studio the Dutch Dance Academy (DDA) and the organizer of the Global Organisation of Line Dance (GOLD), a recently formed competition event circuit. In addition to choreographing many great dances, he's also known for training countless champion dancers as well. He can really be called a "Master of the Trade". With more than 25 years of choreographing and winning prestigious awards throughout the dance community, he has always stayed down to earth and is a man that truly loves his work. His motto is "A day without dancing is a day without living."

Fred is from Northern Ireland. He has been dancing since he was 16. He has also won many prestigious awards both as a competitive dancer and for his choreography. He is a full-time line dance instructor and travels all over the world to teach. He is a member of the CountryVive dance team and loves to perform. In between traveling, he returns home to spend time with his wife and new baby son.

Roy and Fred are 2 instructors that everyone really respect. They are both known for their extensive dance knowledge, their enthusiastic teaching style, and their wonderful senses of humor and will make a great team for this year's CCDF. If you've ever thought about traveling to Japan, this would be a good time to do it! Please come and dance with us. You will be made most welcome.
